SPEED MARKS SODALITY ELECTIONS

Seniors Hold All Offices Save Three

Nine leaders in that many minutes added punch and interest to the Sodality meeting last Wednesday afternoon and proved that the students of Baileyville High knew their minds.

Of those appointed to act as chairman, eight are seniors and one is a junior. They are: Rose Ann Reinecke, Eucharistic committee; Ethel Carroll, Our Lady's committee; Teresa Koch, apostolic; Marva Sextro, parish; Mary Henry, literary; Vernis Meyer, civic; Eugene Stallbaumer, activity; Joseph Ronnebaum, publicity; and Leonard Kramer, mission.

SENIORS CHOOSE RINGS AND INVITATIONS

Curiosity prevailed at B. H. S. last week, Monday, when behind closed doors, the seniors were in solemn meeting with M. W. Harke, representative of Josten's, Owatonna, Minnesota. The exclamations which leaked through the keyhole, told the story that the seniors were selecting their rings.

Joe Ronnebaum, senior class president, said that the rings would probably arrive the early part of December. They are plain gold, decorated with the year, school initials, and other engravings.

The seniors also chose class invitations with a patriotic motif.

Bulletin

"Students who have no absent marks booked against them and who have maintained an average of 95 in any subject will be exempt from the six week examinations," Sister Pancratia, principal, announced this morning.

Class Powers of B. H. S. Entrusted to Boys

Spirited class elections indicate that the boys hold the balance of power in Baileyville High. The seniors chose Joseph Ronnebaum as president. Helping him will be Leonard Heiman, secretary, and Ethel Carroll, treasurer.

Class officers of other classes are: juniors: Leonard Schmits, president; Francis Godbout, vice-president; Cecilia Neikamp, secretary; and William Kohake, treasurer; sophomore: Kenneth Broxterman, president; John Stitz, secretary; Elmer Hammes, treasurer; freshmen: Norbert Schmitz, president; Mary Catherine Bergman, secretary; and Ralph Carroll, treasurer.

Father Fitzgerald Visits Classes

The student body was honored last Friday by a visit from the Reverend P. H. Fitzgerald, pastor at Summerfield. Father Fitzgerald complimented the students on their splendid spirit of good sportsmanship, and gave them some valuable suggestions for making this school year a worthwhile one. Father Fitzgerald spent last week in Baileyville during the absence of Father Grosdidier.

B. H. S. ENROLLS EIGHTY STUDENTS

Thirty New Faces

Crowd Freshman Hall

Eighty knowledge seekers crowded the classrooms of Baileyville High School, August 31, as school bells rang their welcome for the fifth year.

This year goes on record for the largest enrollment as well as producing the largest senior and freshman classes in the school's brief history.

A survey of the classes showed the following numbers: seniors, 13; juniors, 19; sophomores, 17, and freshmen, 30.

"You are to be complimented for continuing your education because you are not only helping yourselves but you are thereby becoming a greater asset to your community," said Sister Pancratia, principal, in addressing the assembly.

Sister Pancratia also introduced the faculty. Sister De Sales needed little introduction since she is beginning her fifth term at B. H. S. Sister Mary Cyril and Sister Rose Angela, teachers of language, music and commercial, replace Sister Blanche and Sister Elise.

STUDENTS BOOST THE BUGLER

Marjorie Rettele Does Outstanding Work

As a real booster for the Bugler, Marjorie Rettele, senior, deserves the highest merit. In a drive for the subscriptions, Marjorie secured 15.

Other students who deserve honorable mention for their school spirit are: Kenneth Broxterman, Rosann Reinecke, Raymond Gockel, Gertrude Broxterman, Joseph Ronnebaum, Martha Haug, Dorothy Buessing, Mary Faith Kohake and Mary Catherine Bergman.

We Extend Sympathy

Students and faculty extend sympathy to the relatives and friends of Henry Heiman whose untimely death occurred last week.

We Begin

To undertake the publication of a school paper has been a challenge to the pluck, persistence and courage of the students at Baileyville High School.

However, because of the greatly increased enrollment, of the need of a medium through which to inform the community of student activities, of their do-or-die spirit, and because of a desire to exchange ideas with other schools we have launched upon the project. In almost every case we have met with the courtesy and co-operation of the members of the community.

Such courtesy and co-operation gives us confidence to forge ahead and to make ourselves, our school and our Bugler a civic pride. It will be the earnest endeavor of the staff and every student of Baileyville High School to accomplish this by presenting to our readers each month an account of school news, our opinions, and our enthusiasms, and in no less manner, to encourage a greater love for God, our country and our community.

For the Colors

The student body's attention and applause given Dr. Studebaker's radio appeal for scrap iron was gratifying. The assembly signified its agreement with the speaker's statement that every boy and girl should participate actively in the salvage for scrap iron. Our country needs the materials now, and therefore, to assist in hunting and collecting old iron and rubber, to part with such of it as is not of absolute necessity, is to answer a call to the colors.

We are not asked to man guns because of our youth. We can, however, keep guns in the hands of our boys "over there." With Dr. Studebaker's dynamic words still resounding, B. H. S. students will use every effort to find every piece of usable scrap iron and rubber in the vicinity. We will keep in step with Uncle Sam!

Do You Do It?

Amid the dark chaos of world conflict, the Catholic world welcomes the Month of the Most Holy Rosary with a joyful hope for peace. Surely the same Blessed Mother who, hundreds of years ago rewarded devotion to her clients by the victory of Lepanto, will answer the fervent prayers of Christendom today.

Through each devout recitation of the rosary we may gain many indulgences, and merely carrying it entitles those who recite it weekly to an indulgence.

We cannot afford to refuse this service of prayer offered to God for our country. Ours is the pledge to say our rosary daily and to carry it always.

Teacher: "John, give the principal parts of appello."

John: "A-pull-o, a-pull-ere, a-pull-si, ap-pul-sass."

Heard in Geometry class:

"Raymond, can you tell me what a polygon is?"

Ray: "It is a parrot that has escaped."

"Give me three collective nouns."

Student: "Flypaper, wastebasket and vacuum cleaner."

Teacher: "Ralph, read the next sentence in Latin."

(Latin text: Roma primo erat parva.)

Ralph: "Romeo erat parva."

Professor (after lecture): "Are there any questions?"

Freshie: "Yes sir. How do you calculate the horse power in a donkey engine?"

Willie: "What did I learn today, teacher?"

Teacher: "Why do you ask?"

Willie: "They will want to know at home."

Customer: "Have you something that will cure fleas on a dog?"

Druggist: "I don't know. What's the matter with the fleas?"

To Our Exchanges

Dear Staffs:

Greetings and a most pleasant and successful year—journalistically, scholastically and otherwise.

We are joining your ranks with this issue of The Baileyville Bugler and we trust you will reward our efforts by exchanging issues of your publication.

Yours for a scoop,
The Bugler Staff.

Alumni

How can we forget the alumni of B. H. S.? Wonder what they are doing. Let's peek over a stock of books symbolizing four years of dear old school days and see what's "cookin'?"

Lela Haug, Gilbert Broxterman, Elmer Hunninghake and Wilbur Roeder are spending their time in "Defense Heaven."

The army has two, the navy one. Ray Macke and Elmer Heiman were "caught in the draft." Maurice Hammes is the guy who's got Navy Blues.

Sorry to say—Clarence Wie-tharn has gone from our midst but we can never forget the wonderful things he did for B. H. S.

Sister Mary Sharon, O. S. B., we are proud to say, is a graduate of B. H. S. Before she entered the convent we knew her as Virginia Holthaus. Sister Sharon is now teaching in Defiance, Ia.

In the married life we find Rita Nolte near Kelly and Eileen Koch near Seneca.

Visitors

Recent visitors at Baileyville High were Elmer Hunninghake and Gilbert Broxterman both from St. Paul; Paul Nolte from Denver; Ruth Conley, and Evelyn Haug from Wichita; Lela Haug now employed in Denver; Giles Kohake and Viola Broxterman from Baileyville. All are former B. H. S. graduates, and the Bugler compliments them on continued interest in their Alma Mater.

Home Ec. Class Has Seven Cooks

The class in Foods and Nutrition boasts of seven good cooks. "We're quality not quantity," they said. As proof of this a tempting display of canned fruits and home made jellies appeared like magic on the Home Economics display shelf.

As a result of a project on salads, those made by Marjorie Rettele and Mary Koch were judged best.

DR. STUDEBAKER'S TALK STIRS STUDENTSCommissioner's Appeal Main Feature of Assembly

Tuning in on the nation-wide broadcast of Dr. John N. Studebaker, Commissioner of the United States office of Education, Washington, D. C., to the school children of America, was a special feature of the second all-school assembly held on Friday afternoon, September 11.

Dr. Studebaker's talk was an urgent plea that every school child help Uncle Sam salvage all available scrap iron and rubber. The hook-up was made possible by Leonard Heiman and his portable radio.

Following Dr. Studebaker's talk were ten minutes of music appreciation, a discussion of the main points of his speech, and the launching of the subscription drive for the Bugler.

Teacher: "What insect requires the least nourishment?"

Robert: "The moth, for it eats holes."

September 13, the boy's team suffered a defeat from the Ford Community team. The score was 5 to 6.

An extra half hour of play was granted the boys' team last Friday due to the fact that Father Fitzgerald joined the boys' game. Naturally, the score of 9 to 3 was in favor of Father's side.

The B. H. S. baseball team is anticipating a close game with the Leavenworth Monarchs of St. Vincent's Orphanage on Sunday afternoon, October 4.

After the game, the Monarchs will be dinner guests of the Home Economics class in the High School building. Helping this year's cooks will be the members of last year's class.

On account of the danger of a lighted stadium, Joe Louis and Billy Conn will fight in the afternoon, October 12. B. H. S. will listen in.

First grader: "I'm going to be a bachelor when I get big."

Teacher: "What is a bachelor?"

First grader: "He's a guy that goes out in the field without his wife."

Freshmen Welcomed To High School Ranks By Upperclassmen

Excitement reigned supreme in the Auditorium Monday evening September 14, when thirty freshmen went through the ordeal of initiation.

Electric welcome, sack races, shoe scramble, flogging line—nothing daunted the freshmen's invincible spirit. The evening came to a close with the freshmen alive and the upperclassmen ready to admit them to their august society.

The freshmen enjoyed a well earned lunch before they were given leave for departure.

lyn Olberding, vice-president; Aurelia Niekamp, secretary and Grace Bergman, treasurer, were elected to office at a meeting held the first week of school.

The rules of the sodality were read and explained for the special benefit of the new members. The motion for adopting Baileyville men in service into the prayers and correspondence of the sodalists was adopted. Plans for attendance at the K. S. S. U. convention at St. Mary college, Leavenworth, October 17, were discussed.

The meeting closed with the song, "For Christ, the King."

Grade Notes

A third front was started in the eighth grade two weeks ago. Attacks are made by tank, airplane and ship. To date, most advances are made by ship through excellent preparation. The tanks and airplanes bravely penetrate into the lines of the enemy, but find it difficult to overcome their greatest enemy, procrastination.

The "miracle" of changing colors by the addition of another was learned by the members of the class last Friday when they made color wheels in the art period.

Kathleen Hammes, Gerald Heiman and Raymond Severin are to be congratulated on the talks given on the life cycle of various insects which are a menace to crops.

The seventh grade pupils are vying with one another in a vocabulary contest. In time they hope to master the entire dictionary.

A unique form of down has been adopted by the fifth and sixth grades. Every Friday afternoon they engage in a battle of questions in Catechism, the boys taking side against the girls.

Each side formed itself into a club under the patronage of its chosen Saint. The boys are known as the St. Sebastian's club and the girls as Tekakwitha club. Last week the boys scored 80 and the girls 86.

Cleta Mae Hammes is in the Axtell hospital recovering from an operation for appendicitis. Her classmates are anxious to have her with them again.

The following second grade pupils have had 100 per cent in spelling during the past three weeks: Eugene Heiman, Elmer Bergman, Lebert Dick, Kenneth Meyer, Norma Jean Godbout, JoAnn Spielman.

Everyone enjoys the puzzle pages because each day brings a new thrill.

All the ball players are grateful to Rev. H. H. Grosdickier for the balls, mitts and mask.
